BIOGRAPHY

Patrick is a highly capable designer with an excellent foundation in graphic design and visual communication, while also being highly proficient in traditional and digital illustration, animation and video editing. Patrick studied Visual Communication and Graphic Design at California State University, Chico, earning his BA in 2000. Patrick has produced work for a variety of clients that include Day Runner, PacifiCare, Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District, 50 Corridor Transportation Management Association and Sacramento Area Council of Governments.

Patrick conceived, animated and edited the main titles of the full-length feature film “Her Minor Thing”. In 2008, Patrick animated 100 episodes of his original series, “Traveling Gringos”, becoming the world’s first daily animated Web series.
